

UNESCO's City of Crafts and Folk Arts project is part of the wider Creative Cities Network, founded in 2004, which designates cities worldwide that have made unique contributions to the field of crafts and folk arts.

The current designated Cities of Crafts and Folk Arts of UNESCO are:

See also

Creative Cities Network

City of Film

City of Gastronomy

City of Literature

City of Music (UNESCO)

Design Cities (UNESCO)

City of Media Arts

== References ==