

Communications data (sometimes referred to as traffic data or metadata) concerns information about communication.

Communications data is a part of a message that should be distinguished from the content of the message. It contains data on the communication's origin, destination, route, time, date, size, duration, or type of underlying service.

References

See also

Call detail record

Internet Protocol Detail Record

Pen Register

Data Retention Directive

Interception Modernization Programme

Mastering the Internet

NSA Call Database

CSE and Communications data

Titan traffic database