

The following is a list of websites that have been created by companies and have been considered by journalists, fact-checkers or researchers as distributing false news - or otherwise participating in misinformation or disinformation.

List

Alabama Power

All Perspectives Ltd.

Banc de Binary

Big News Network

The following is a list of websites run by Midwest Radio Network or The Mainstream Media, two affiliated organizations based in Australia and the United Kingdom, respectively, that are both owned by Big News Network, which is based in Dubai. These sites have been described as pink slime.

Chevron

Dietary supplement marketers

Starting in 2011, the Federal Trade Commission, along with the State of Connecticut, filed complaints against several dietary supplement marketers, accusing them of creating fake news websites to advertise their products. Companies named in the lawsuits include Beony International, LeadClick Media, CoreLogic, LeanSpa, Sensa, L'Occitane, HCG Diet Direct, Sale Slash, Purists Choice, and Prisma Profits. The following is a list of websites promoted by these companies.

Eliminalia

The following is a list of sites created by Eliminalia, a reputation management firm.

Gravitas Works

Integrated Marketing Group Inc.

Jackpot Bet Online

The following is a list of websites deemed by Bleeping Computer to be associated with Jackpot Bet Online, a betting company based in India.

Regency Enterprises

The following is a list of sites created by Regency Enterprises to promote the movie A Cure for Wellness. Some of the false stories led to significant user engagement on social media and were debunked by fact-checkers.

Runway

The following is a list of websites created by Runway News Media Group, a public relations firm based in Canada. These sites have been described as pink slime.

Salem Media Group

Tune Media

Vivendi

== References ==